Norwegian Kennel Clubs show regulations

These regulations apply to all official dog shows arranged by NKK or clubs under NKKs jurisdiction. The regulations are in harmonization with the Nordic kennel clubs (Denmark, Finland, Iceland and Sweden). At unofficial arrangements the organizing club shall inform the public that the arrangement is unofficial. For more information and show schedules: www.nkk.no

1. Management

All organizers shall appoint a show manager. He or she is responsible for ensuring that the dog show is conducted according to these rules. If disputes or doubts of any kind arise, they should attempt to be solved on site. The show manager may expel any person who is found breaking any of the show regulations from the show premises. A judge or the show manager (ct. nr. 14) may dismiss dogs displaying unwanted behaviour, like aggression towards dogs or people. Any conflict or disagreement, which may arise between handlers and owners, is not the responsibility of the organizers. The organizer is responsible of the show; financially, principally and technically. Animal welfare shall have the highest priority on all dog shows and events.

2. Entry at dog shows

Anyone that has not been excluded by the NKK, or a foreign affiliated dog club (FCI), may enter a dog at a dog show.

3. Dogs entitled to enter in shows

3.1 Breed requirements

Please see the FCI and NKU (Nordic Kennel Union) updated lists over dog show entitled breeds that are not FCI approved.

3.2 Dog requirements

To enter a dog, the following requirements must be met:
-All dogs, born after 1 of January 1998, must be ID-marked.

- All dogs must be registered with NKK or with a club under NKKs jurisdiction/affiliated club.
- A foreign registered dog living in Norway, and owned by a person living in Norway, must be reregistered to NKK before entered at a dog show.
- Norwegian owned Border Collies must achieve at least 90 points, over two different years, on a herding trial before it can sign up at a national dog show. Border Collies may enter an international dog show without meeting trial merit requirement.
- To enter Obedience- and/or Agility- trials, all unregistered or mix-breeds must be NOX registered in NKK.

3.3 Minimum age for entry at a dog show

The dog must be minimum 9 months at the first day of the dog show, regardless of which day the breed is judged during shows running over several days.

3.4 Vaccination regulations

- All dogs must document that they are vaccinated against distemper (paramyxovirus).
- Dogs under 12 months of age when attending the show must be vaccinated after the age of 10 weeks.
 - Dogs over 12 months of age must be vaccinated at least at 10 months of age and last vaccination conducted maximum 3 years before attending the show.
 - If the dog is vaccinated only once, the vaccination must have been made at least two weeks before the dog can attend the show. We recommend all dogs to be vaccinated against parvovirus and parainfluenza. Unannounced controls of import, health and vaccination documents may occur at the show.

3.5 Open studbook

Dog breeds with open studbook/unknown generations, or dogs that the Board of NKK has given permission, may pay a deposit registration fee and attend a dog show with a permission number ("dep.nr."). If the dog fulfils the necessary requirements, NKK may issue a registration certificate/studbook.

A dog can receive a permission number only once.

The only exception is in cases where the dog achieves "KIP" (cannot be judged) at a show. For more information about breeds with open studbooks and permission number, please contact NKK.

3.6 Ear cropping and tail docking

According to regulations as of April 25th 2003, paragraph 614 of Norwegian Food Safety Authority (Mattilsynet, former Statens Dyrehelsetilsyn) states that dogs who have been ear cropped and/or tail docked may NOT enter shows or trials, regardless of which country the docking has taken place.

Bobtail: For more information about natural bobtail breeds, please see Nordic Kennel Union's updated list.

3.7 Health Status

A dog may not enter a dog show if:

- The dog is sick.
- The dog has fleas or other parasites.
- The dog is blind or deaf.
- The dog has recently given birth; puppies under 75 days of age.
- The dog is pregnant with less than 30 days to delivery (estimated 63 days after first mating).

Dogs that are showed must be in a good mental state, have a good health and show no signs of illness. A dog can only enter in a dog show if it has no infection that may infect other. If in doubt a veterinarian certificate must be obtained.

If a dog has been injured, and this can be certified by a veterinarian, the certificate must be brought to the show.

Dogs that have their tail amputated for medical reasons may enter if a veterinary declaration stating the reason for the surgery can be provided. The declaration must include the dog's pedigree name, breed, registration and ID number. Owner of dogs with amputated tail must contact the Norwegian Kennel Club and apply for permission to enter. It will always be the judge's decision, whether an injury should be taken into consideration or not, in the judging of the dog.

The ring steward, the judge or the present veterinary may request that the dog be examined by a veterinarian.

Male dogs that have been castrated due to illness may enter shows if the owner can submit a testimonial given by the NKK. To get this permission the dog's owner must receive a veterinarian certificate which states the dog had normal testicles after the age of 6 months, before the operation, and send it to NKK, in due time before the show. Neutered bitches are given a general dispensation to exhibit.

3.8 Doping and faking is forbidden

Doping is interpreted as the use of medicine or other remedies that stimulates, calms down, reduces pain, affects behaviour and/or in any other way alter the dog's performance or quality.

NKKs anti-doping rules can be found at www.nkk.no.

It is prohibited to show a dog who has been subject to procedures with the intention of improving the dog's exterior and/or performance. Examples of such procedures are braces, tattooing to change nose colour or pigmentation, and surgery to correct misplaced testicles including testicular implants.

It is not permitted to treat the skin, coat or nose with any product that can change its colour or structure. This includes dye, chalk, hairspray etc.

Normal brushing, plucking and trimming required for the breeds are permitted. So is washing/bathing with regular dog shampoo and conditioner, as well as blow drying. At the show grounds it is only permitted to use water in the fur. No other remedies are allowed. Organizers of the show may confiscate equipment, bottle or the like if there is doubt regarding the contents and use of it.

4. Entry

4.1 Entry and entry fees

Entry and payment must be done within the date that is set by NKK or the organising committee. All forms of entry are binding. The organizer can accept an entry after the set date if the dog's breed, class, gender and catalogue number is printed correctly in the show catalogue (not "B-numbers").

Entry after the deadline of international dog shows is not accepted.

4.2 Refund of entry fee

Entry fee can only be refunded when changes in judges have been made after the entry deadline. These changes must have been made after the dog was entered. To get the refund the exhibitor must return the start number, receipt and a written complaint to the organising committee on the day of the show at the latest, and before any judging of the class/breed has begun. No refunds will be given if information regarding reserve judges was included in the show invitation. No refunds will be given if the dog is sick or hurt on the day of the show and cannot enter.

4.2.1 Exceptions

The organising committee may demand an additional 25% administration fee when an entry is not accepted (for example due to late payment or dogs not eligible for the show).

4.3 Catalogue and program

One of the official FCI languages (English, German, French or Spanish), in addition to the original language of the breed, must be used when the breed and its country of origin is presented in the catalogue and program. Not-FCI-approved breeds must be separated from the other breeds in the catalogue.

8. The judge's decision is final

Any decision the judge makes in relation to exterior, prizes and placement is final and cannot be altered. Exhibitors cannot dispute against the judge's decision.

Judge's decisions can be overturned in the following situations:

- A technical flaw has occurred.
- A dog has not had the right to enter according to current rules.
- An owner protests against a judgement that settles on a disqualified error on the breed standard.

If the protest is approved, the dog's prizes will be deleted from the results, and the entry fee and protest fee will be refunded.

A dismissal of the protest may be submitted in writing to NKK within 30 days. Results can be altered within 2 years from the show.

9. Implementation of the judgements

Dogs and bitches are shown separately. The class is determined by age and formerly gained merits. The dog may be entered to one (1) class only. The judging consists of a quality part and a competition part. At the quality part the judge considers the dog with regards to the breed standard and submits a written assessment of the dog in one of the Scandinavian languages or one of the four FCI languages (English, French, German or Spanish).

10. Changing the entered class

Exceptions:

The group may not hold more than one dog with the prize "Very Good". Offspring with "Good", "Sufficient", "KIP" or "O. Prize" may not enter. Only one group of the same breed after the same sire or dam may be entered. The entered dog with all offspring in the group must be of the same size- and coat variations.

When assessed it is the group's average quality and homogenous expression in relation to type that is decisive, before the single dog's individual quality. Groups with homogenous and excellent quality may be granted Prize of Honour (HP).

The group may not hold more than one dog with the prize "Very Good". Dogs with "Good", "Sufficient", "KIP" or "O. Prize" may not enter. When assessed it is the group's average quality and homogenous expression, in relation to type, that is decisive before the single dog's individual quality. Groups of homogenous and excellent quality may be granted HP.

The best breeding group with HP goes on to compete in the finals. The breeder or his/hers representative shall inform the ring steward, as well as the owners of the participating dogs, that the group is signed up for the Breeders Class.

11.17 Junior handling

Please see NKU (Norwegian Kennel Youth department) rules for Junior Handling.

11.18 Special Circumstances

Dachshunds, Toy-, Miniature- and Medium size Poodle, Miniature- and Medium size Spitz competing in the Junior Class, shall be entered and judged according to the size variation they are registered as. The dog's final size variation shall be decided upon first entry to a show after 15 months of age. The judge will then measure the dog and decide where it belongs in its final size variant. Copy of the critique that states the size and original registration certificate/studbook must be sent to NKK for registration as soon as possible.

The width of the chest of the Dachshund shall be measured by a judge. This is the deciding factor of which size variation class the dog shall be judged in. For placements as a miniature dachshund the width of the chest must be within 30 and 35 cm, and for rabbit Dachshund the width of the chest must not exceed 30 cm.

The following applies to Toy-, Miniature- and Medium Sized Poodle: dogs between 35cm and 45 cm are typed Medium Sized Poodles, between 28 cm and 35 cm are typed Miniature Sized Poodles, and dogs under 28 cm are typed as Toy Poodles.

The following applies to Miniature- and Medium Size Spitz: Dogs that are 34 cm +/- 4 cm are typed as Medium Size Spitz, while dogs at 26 cm +/- 3 cm are typed as Miniature Spitz.

Results achieved in another size variation class will be invalid if the size variant is changed. Changing the measurement may only be done by forwarding a complaint to the NKK. The request must be sent immediately, and no later than two weeks after the measurement has been done. If the request is forwarded, final measurement will be done by a committee of appeal. This appellate authority consists of two authorised exterior judges of the breed appointed in cooperation with the breed club. They measure the dog again and decide on the final size variation.

This measurement may not be appealed. In cases where a dog is exhibited after the appealed measurement, and before the control measurement has taken place, it will be considered an acceptance of the first measurement, thus consequently resulting in the measurement being final, and the right to appeal ceases to exist. Expenses in connection to the control measurement will be paid by the owner.

Placement of the German Shepherd Dog regarding long or shorthair variety, may be determined at the show by the judge, or by a prefilled form before the breed judgement in the ring. The dog will then be placed in the right breed category.

If the owner of the dog considers the dog to be placed in the wrong class, the owner may send an appeal to NKK within two weeks after the show. The appellate authority consists of 2 authorised exterior judges of the breed, appointed in cooperation with the breed club. These will consider the dog in full fur. Their decision regarding the hair variant may not be appealed, and the dog will be final registered as decided.

11.19 Category Size Measuring

Dogs may also be measured by a commission after the age of 9 months, but before the age of 15 months. The commission consists of two authorised judges of the breed. A size measuring may be held in connection with shows or in other official arrangements. Original registration documents with the ID-number must be presented to the organizers. ID- number shall be controlled. The organizers decide whether a commission size measurement is possible. At a size measuring the dog is registered in its final size variation. The result may not be appealed. After a commission measurement the dog must be entered to the size variation category decided by the judges. The measurement form and the dog's registration documents must immediately be forwarded to NKK by the organizer.

11.20 Finals

Unapproved FCI breeds may not enter in the group finals at international shows. (for example Australian Stumpy Tail Cattle Dog, Chodsky Pes, Lancashire Heeler, Russian Hound, Russian Tsvetnaya Bolanka, Swedish White Elkhound). Finals are not entitled to be registered in the studbook. The finals are a competition of the groups, and the best dog of the show; BIG and BIS, with four dogs placed. Dogs that has achieved best in breed; BIR, competes for best in group; BIG. Dogs that has achieved 1 BIG competes for best in show; BIS. If convenient, for example due to the numbers of participating breeds, the organizers may decide to judge to or more groups at once. A merging of two groups or more in the finals must be announced beforehand in the show announcement. The competition for the Shows best Veteran is open for dogs that have achieved the title Best Veteran of the day. The competition for the best Progeny and Breeders Class is open for the best group of the breed with HP.

Disqualified is given to a dog which does not correspond to the type required by the breed standard, this may be as follows:

A: atypical exterior according to the breed's standard

B: has anatomical flaw(s) that to a major degree affects the dog's physically health, especially in contexts concerning the breed's original use and function.

C: testicular abnormalities

D: scared and/or aggressive behaviour in the ring, and when it is impossible to approach the dog.

If "Disqualified" is awarded as a result of point D, the judge must sign the prize list concerning the incident. Other abnormalities in mentality shall be judged according to the breed standard.

The reason for disqualification must always be stated in the judge's critique.

-Any dog that has been disqualified three times, because of disposition (see point D), are banned from entering dog shows.

12.6 Cannot be judged- KIP

KIP is given a dog when it is impossible to judge its exterior, quality, movements and gait. This may be if the dog constantly jumps up and down on its handler, does not move at all, avoids the judge, makes it impossible to inspect teeth, anatomy, structure and testicles, has a puppy-like behaviour, is in poor physical condition. Also if the dog is trimmed to the extent that its coat cannot be judged, and/or the dog that has an injury that makes it difficult to judge its movements.

The reason for KIP must always be stated in the judge's critique.

12.7 Prize of Honour (HP)

Prize of Honour can be awarded to breeders and progeny classes that display homogeneous and average quality. The Honours Prize entitles participation in the final competitions.

12.8 Certificate/reserve- certificate /CK (Champion Quality)

This may be awarded to a typical and correctly built dog of such quality that the judge finds it to be of champion quality. A reserve CERT can be proposed to the first runner up for the CERT. The reserve CERT will function as CERT if the winner of the CERT is disqualified or has achieved the CERT's (3) required to acquire championship (ct. nr. 11.13). The dog that is awarded the reserve certificate must also meet any trial merit requirement.

12.9 CACIB/reserve CACIB

This may only be awarded at an international dog show, and only to dogs of superior quality (competing in classes/breeds where the CACIB is awarded and may be given, and where the dog has at least three registered generations of ancestors in its studbook). Normally the requirements for CACIB are higher than for the certificate. For Norwegian breeds there is no difference in quality for CERT/CK and CACIB.

13. Dispensation

The NKK General Committee may, in special circumstances make it necessary, exempt from these rules.

14. Violation of the dog show rules
